PARTNERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

A person in traditional East Asian clothing is seated and playing a guqin, a traditional Chinese zither. The scene is set at night, with several glowing lanterns hanging in the background, creating a warm and atmospheric setting. The person is positioned in the center-left of the frame, and the guqin is held horizontally across their lap. The lanterns are of various shapes and sizes, some round and some rectangular, all emitting a soft, yellow light. The background is dark, with some foliage visible on the right side.

EXPERIENCES

Bring your brand to life with an experience booth at our Mid-Autumn Festival, where hundreds of attendees from the AAPI community come together to celebrate culture, connection, and creativity. Whether it's an interactive demo, photo op, product sampling, or cultural activity, your booth will offer a hands-on way to engage festival-goers while aligning your brand with a meaningful, youth-led nonprofit event. This is more than visibility—it's a chance to create lasting impressions through authentic, culturally resonant experiences.

FOOD

Bring your authentic Asian flavors to the spotlight at our Mid-Autumn Festival in Orange County—a cultural celebration centered on traditional foods, community, and AAPI pride. We're seeking food vendors who specialize in authentic Asian cuisine to help create a meaningful, delicious experience for festival-goers celebrating their heritage and discovering new tastes. This is your chance to connect with a passionate audience, boost sales, and be part of a nonprofit-led event that honors and uplifts the AAPI community. Vendors will be highlighted in our marketing, social media, and press outreach as key partners in this celebration of culture through food.
